PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 35

BE IT RESOLVED by the House of Representatives of the Sixty-Second General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, and by the Senate, a majority of all members elected to each House agreeing thereto:

That the following is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon at such an election adopt such amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to-wit:

SECTION 1. The annual salaries of the constitutional officers of this State shall be as fixed by law, but shall not exceed the following: The Governor, the sum of $20,000.00; the Lieutenant Governor, the sum of $5,000.00; the Secretary of State, the sum of $10,000.00; the Treasurer of State, the sum of $10,000.00; the Auditor of State, the sum of $10,000.00; the Attorney General, the sum of $12,000.00; and the Commissioner of State Lands, the sum of $10,000.00.

SECTION 2. The annual salaries or compensation of all elected county officials and their deputy hire allowances shall be as fixed by law, provided that no such salary or compensation shall be in excess of $10,000.00 per annum.

SECTION 3. The annual salaries of all elected municipal officials shall be prescribed by the elected government body of such municipality, but no such salary shall be in excess of $10,000.00 per annum. Provided, that the salaries of municipal judges shall be established in the manner prescribed by Amendment No. 43 to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas.

SECTION 4. The annual salaries or compensation of all county and municipal officials, and their deputy hire allowances, shall be and remain the same as provided by law upon the effective date of this Amendment until the same shall be changed in the manner authorized herein.

SECTION 5. The salaries of state constitutional officers, elected county officials and elected municipal officials shall not be reduced or diminished during the term for which any such official shall be elected.

SECTION 6. Nothing contained herein shall limit or restrict the right of the people to establish the salaries of county and municipal officials by initiative act as authorized in Amendment 7 to the Constitution.

SECTION 7. All laws and parts of laws and all constitutional provisions in conflict herewith are, to the extent of such conflict, hereby repealed.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 31

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the State of Arkansas, and by the House of Representatives, a majority of all members elected to each House agreeing thereto:

That the following is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon at such an election adopt such amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to-wit:

SECTION 1. In addition to the powers granted by constitutional or statutory authority, cities of the first and second class may issue, by and with consent of a majority of the qualified electors of said municipality voting on the question at an election held for the purpose, bonds in sums and for the purposes approved by such majority at such election as follows:

For the payment of any indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment; for the purchase of rights of way for construction of public streets, alleys, boulevards, and expressways, within the corporate limits of such municipality for the construction of widening or straightening of streets, alleys, boulevards, expressways, and parking facilities, within the corporate limits of such municipality for the purchase, development and improvement of public parks, airports, flying fields, and recreational facilities located either within or without the corporate limits of such municipality for the construction of sewers and comfort stations; for the purchase of fire alarm systems; for the purchase of street and fire fighting apparatus and equipment; for the purchase of street and sewer cleaning equipment and apparatus; for the purchase of sites for construction of, and equipment of, city halls, auditoriums, court houses, prisons, libraries, hospitals, clinics, public abattoirs, incinerators or garbage disposal or sewage treatment plants, for building for the housing of street police or fire fighting apparatus and equipment; for the construction of viaducts and bridges; for the purpose of purchasing, extending, improving, enlarging, building, or construction of water works or light plants, and distribution systems therefor, and for the purchase of sites for, improving or equipping harbor and river terminal facilities, and for the acquisition, development and construction of olive, municipal, or public facilities, and improvements. For the purchase, development and improvement of airports, waterworks, sewage disposal systems or any other municipal facilities which are, wholly or partially, located outside the boundaries of this State.

No bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall bear a greater rate of interest than six per cent per annum payable either annually or semi-annually; that is to say, the cost to the municipality for interest and discount, on each issue of bonds shall not exceed six per cent per annum, and no bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall ever be sold except at public sale after twenty days' advertisement in some newspaper having a bona fide circulation in the municipality issuing such bonds.

In order to provide for the payment of the bonds issued under the provisions of this amendment, and interest thereon, a special tax in addition to the legal rate permitted may be levied by municipalities on the real and personal taxable property therein. And any municipality issuing any bonds shall, before or at the time of doing so, levy a direct tax payable annually sufficient to pay the interest on such bonds as the same matures, and also sufficient to pay and discharge the principal of all such bonds at their respective maturities. The special tax permitted by this amendment shall not be subject to any constitutional limitation; provided, however, the General Assembly may by legislative act limit the rate of such taxation, which limitation shall be effective only upon a special tax levied for the payment of bonds issued after the effective date of such legislative act.

Said bonds shall be serial, maturing annually after three years from date of issue, and shall be paid off as they mature, and no bonds issued under the authority of this amendment shall be issued for a longer period than forty years.

It shall be the duty of the mayor and city council or other governing body established by law, to exercise supervision over the sale of any bonds, which may be voted by the people at an election held for that purpose and they shall expend economically the funds so provided for the specified purposes for which they were voted.

Said election shall be held at such times as the city council may "designate" by ordinance, which ordinance shall specifically state the purpose for which the bonds are to be issued, and if for more than one purpose, provisions shall be made in said ordinance for balloting on each separate purpose; which ordinance shall state the sum total of the issue, the dates of maturity thereof and shall fix the date of election so that it shall not occur earlier than thirty days after the passage of said ordinance. Said election shall be held and conducted, and the vote thereof canvassed, and the result thereof declared under the law and in the manner now or hereafter provided for municipal elections, so far as the same may be applicable, except as herein otherwise provided. Notice of said election shall be given by the mayor by advertisement weekly for at least four times, in some newspaper published in said municipality and having a bona fide circulation therein; the last publication to be not less than ten days prior to the date of said election.

Qualified voters of said municipality only shall have a right to vote at said elections. The result of said election shall be proclaimed by the mayor and the result as proclaimed shall be conclusive unless attacked in the courts within thirty days after the date of such proclamation. This amendment shall not reveal or affect any law relating to the organization of improvement districts.

SECTION 2. In addition to any existing Constitutional or Statutory provisions, and the powers granted under the provisions of this amendment, cities of the first and second class are hereby authorized to levy a tax on the real and personal property located within the corporate limits of five (5) mills on the dollar of the assessed value of such property. That the revenues from such tax may be used for any municipal purpose now or hereafter authorized.

SECTION 3. The General Assembly may by legislative act allow cities of the first and second class to levy additional taxes for any municipal purpose, now or hereafter authorized, and such taxes or the rates thereof shall not be limited by any existing Constitutional provision.

SECTION 4. The salaries of officials and employees of cities of the first and second class shall be fixed by the governing body of such cities, and the amounts of such salaries shall not be limited by any existing Constitutional provision.

SECTION 5. This amendment shall be in force upon its adoption, and shall not require legislative action to put it into force and effect.

All provisions of this amendment whenever at any annual school election a majority of the qualified electors shall be treated as mandatory, and all provisions of the Constitution or amendments thereto in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 52

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the State of Arkansas, and by the House of Representatives, a majority of all members elected to each House agreeing thereto:

That the following is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon at such an election adopt such amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to-wit:

SECTION 1. Intelligence and virtue being the safeguards of liberty and bulwark of a free and good government, it is hereby declared to be the public policy that Arkansas shall ever provide financial aid whereby all residents of this State between the ages of six and eighteen years may, as desired by them or their parents or guardians, receive gratuitous instruction; and, that the manner of administering such aid can best be determined at the local level.

SECTION 2. Financial aid to carry out the aforesaid declare policy of the people of this State shall be raised at both the State and local levels through taxation now or hereafter authorized by law. Financial aid at the State level shall be provided in such amounts, and distributed to school districts under such formula, as the General Assembly shall determine; and, financial aid at the local level shall be provided in such amounts as shall from time to time be determined by the qualified electors of the respective school districts.

SECTION 3. The qualified electors of each school district shall have the right to determine by their vote at a special election called for the purpose, the manner of applying the financial aid available for the instruction of residents of the district between the ages of six and eighteen years; and such instruction may be provided either: (a) through a system of free public schools whereof the district will provide the physical plant, employ instructors, and do any and all things necessary to maintain a general, suitable and efficient system of free schools to be operated by the district; or (b) through student education financial aid whereof the district will apply all available funds for the equal benefit of all such residents for the periods of time during which they respectively receive instruction in this State.

SECTION 4. Subject to such limitations as may be imposed by law, exclusive jurisdiction for the government of each school district shall be vested in a board of directors.

SECTION 5. There is hereby declared, and all provisions of the Constitution or amendments thereto in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Approved: March 16, 1959.

Secretary of State

levied and there shall be collected an annual per capita tax of one dollar from each resident of this State over the age of twenty-one years, and the proceeds thereof shall be used for educational purposes in such manner as is now or as hereafter may be provided by law.

SECTION 6. Not less than fifteen days next preceding each annual school election, the board of directors of each school district shall prepare, approve and make public a proposed budget of expenditures in which there shall be set forth the amount of funds determined by the board as being necessary to provide, during the next following fiscal year, gratuitous instruction for residents of the district between the ages of six and eighteen years. The proposed budget shall set forth the estimated amounts, respectively, of funds necessary: (a) to meet the debt service requirements of the district's issued and outstanding bonds; (b) to meet its other contractual obligations; (c) to pay insurance premiums on, and cost of maintenance or custodial care of, buildings and other property owned by the district; and (d), in such detail as the board shall determine, the estimated amount of funds required for other educational purposes. From the total of the aforementioned requirements for the fiscal year shall be deducted the estimated amount of funds to be available to the district from State aid and from all other sources other than the local property tax, and the remainder as so determined shall be designated and known as the budget deficit. Based upon the assessed valuation of all taxable property within the territorial bounds of the district for the then current year, the board of directors shall determine the rate of tax levy necessary to provide, when applied to the amount of said assessed valuation, funds of sufficient amount to meet the aforesaid budget deficit; and the rate of tax levy as so determined shall be submitted for the approval or disapproval of the qualified electors of the district at the next following annual school election.

SECTION 7. The manner of applying financial aid for the instruction of residents of any school district between the ages of six and eighteen years shall be changed, effective immediately, from the then existing manner to that of the manner authorized by Section 3 hereof, whenever the proposition of making such change shall be approved by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the district voting on the proposition at a special election called for that purpose by the County Judge of the county in which all or the major portion of the land area within the territorial bounds of any such district is located. The County Judge shall call such special election within thirty days after the receipt by him: (a) of a petition containing the signatures of not less than a majority of the board of directors of the district; or (b) of petitions containing the signatures of not less than ten per cent of the qualified electors of the district. Provided, that not less than twelve months shall elapse after any such special election before another special election may be called for the purpose of again voting on the proposition of changing the manner of applying financial aid.

In each instance in which the manner of applying financial aid for the instruction of residents of the district between the ages of six and eighteen years shall be changed, then all funds of the district, save only such funds as are necessary to meet the debt service requirements of the district's issued and outstanding bonds, to meet its other contractual obligations, and to pay insurance premiums on, and cost of maintenance or custodial care of, the district, shall be used for student education financial aid, and shall be applied equally for the benefit of all such residents for the periods of time during which they respectively receive instruction in this State.

SECTION 8. With respect to each school district, proposals for the issuance of bond and for the collection of taxes at a continuing rate of levy for the payment thereof may be submitted by the board of directors for the approval or disapproval of the qualified electors voting on the proposition at any annual school election, and, upon petition of not less than ten percent of the qualified electors of the district, or by resolution of the board of directors, such proposals may be submitted for the approval or disapproval of the qualified electors voting on any such proposition at a special election called for the purpose by the County Judge. No school district may issue bonds unless a majority of the qualified electors voting on any such proposition at a school election shall approve the same; and no bonds or other evidences of debt hereafter issued by any school district shall be secured by a lien on the property of the district, and no district may pledge any of its revenues for the payment of said bonds or other evidences of debt except revenues to be derived from the collection of taxes up on taxable property within the district under a continuing rate of levy approved by a majority of the qualified electors voting on the proposition at a school election. The principal amount of any proposed bond issue may include the estimated amount of interest to be due on such bonds during the first year.

SECTION 9. The manner of applying financial aid for the instruction of residents of any school district between the ages of six and eighteen years shall be changed, effective immediately, from the then existing manner to that of the manner authorized by Section 3 hereof, whenever the proposition of making such change shall be approved by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the district voting on the proposition at a special election called for that purpose by the County Judge of the county in which all or the major portion of the land area within the territorial bounds of any such district is located. The County Judge shall call such special election within thirty days after the receipt by him: (a) of a petition containing the signatures of not less than a majority of the board of directors of the district; or (b) of petitions containing the signatures of not less than ten per cent of the qualified electors of the district. Provided, that not less than twelve months shall elapse after any such special election before another special election may be called for the purpose of again voting on the proposition of changing the manner of applying financial aid.

In each instance in which the manner of applying financial aid for the instruction of residents of the district between the ages of six and eighteen years shall be changed, then all funds of the district, save only such funds as are necessary to meet the debt service requirements of the district's issued and outstanding bonds, to meet its other contractual obligations, and to pay insurance premiums on, and cost of maintenance or custodial care of, the district, shall be used for student education financial aid, and shall be applied equally for the benefit of all such residents for the periods of time during which they respectively receive instruction in this State.

SECTION 10. Either branch of the General Assembly at a regular or special session thereof may propose amendments to this measure, and, if any such proposal be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each house such proposal shall be submitted

Warehouse Blown Up Near School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Three white men were seized by the FBI early today and charged with trying to blow up a dormitory-classroom building at Philander Smith College for Negroes.

Two hours after the arrests, an explosion rocked a small warehouse of the Little Rock school district, only 10 blocks from the Methodist Negro college. No one was hurt.

J. J. Casper, FBI agent in charge at Little Rock, said two of the men were caught as they were lighting a candle leading to a fuse in a small black box, loaded with 40 sticks of dynamite.

Police Chief R. E. Glascock said his men had been guarding a number of public buildings in Little Rock for several days "for security reasons." He added police had learned of a plot to dynamite some buildings but did not elaborate.

Students of Philander Smith College last spring figured in a number of lunch counter sit-ins. But the school with an enrollment of 500 has dismissed regular classes for summer vacation. Only a few students are attending summer school classes.

Casper said he did not know how many students, if any, were in the college building when the bombing attempt was made shortly after midnight.

The FBI, who first announced the arrests in Washington, refused to say how it happened to have agents lying in wait.

FBI agents and police swarmed over the school warehouse area. Streets around it were barricaded. Neither Casper nor police were ready to link the explosion with the dynamiting attempt at the Negro

Speeder Is Suspected of Murder

DYERSBURG, Tenn. (AP)—Two police officers halted a speeder car on the edge of town yesterday and captured two men, one of them charged with murder, who broke out of an Arkansas jail after overpowering a guard.

Police Chief Ralph Palmer said Benjamin Crippen, 30, of Rome, N.Y., and Gordon Drumwright, 19, of Bebe, Ark., offered no resistance when they were stopped by Sgt. Marvin Middleton and Patrolman Thomas Taylor. Neither of the fugitives was armed, he said.

Crippen, who is charged with murder in Jackson County, Ark., Drumwright, Wesley B. Cordell of Little Rock and Jimmy Miller of Michigan escaped from Searcy, Ark., jail Friday after hitting jailer Doyle Graham over the head with a blackjack and locking him in a cell.

Crippen had been sentenced the college. All Casper would say was, "We are investigating."

Police chased a car at high speed about 30 minutes after the bombing. The car, struck by a bullet, turned over at the south edge of Little Rock. The occupants escaped in nearby woods.

Nothing Is Funny About a Disease

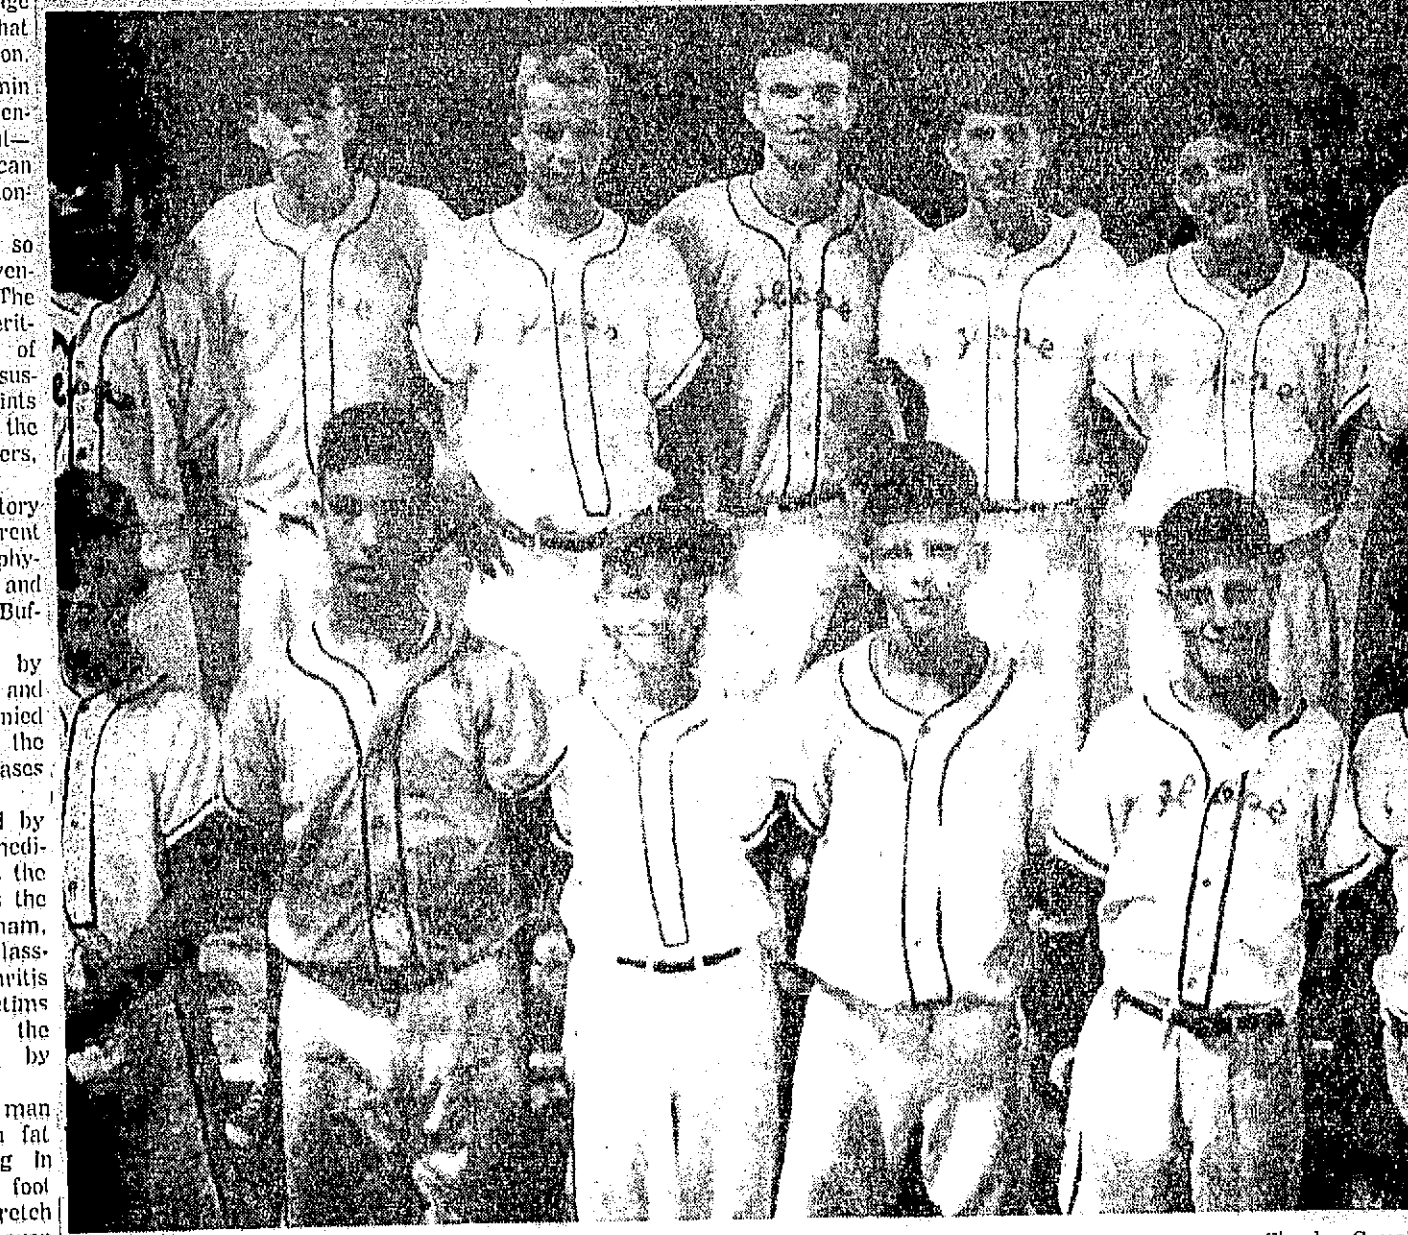

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — One out of every 100 Americans has a disease at which many of the other often laugh through sheer ignorance.
This disease is gout, a malady
which has had a far more important impact on our country than, say, those twin ailments of the advertising world — halitosis
and athlete's foot.
Those who laugh at gout might not be here at all except for the dreaming boldness of a gout sufferer. Between his pangs this man — Christopher Columbus — discovered America.
Those who laugh at gout might not be Americans at all except for two more gout victims.
One was the brilliant English orator, William Pitt. It is said that only an attack of gout prevented him from stopping passage of the Stamp Act, a measure that speeded the American Revolution.
The other was Benjamin Franklin, whose diplomatic genius — despite his throbs of gout — did so much to win American freedom and establish our national unity.
Those who laugh at gout do so in the belief that it is a heavy penalty for high living. The truth is that gout is an inher-itable, chronic disorder, a form of arthritis that afflicts more suspected sinners than known saints only because at any one time the world usually holds many sinners,
and few saints.
The long and honorable history of gout is recalled in the current issue of "Geriatrics" by two physicians, L. Maxwell Lockie and Richard G. Cooper, both of Buffalo and escape. Both told they would plead guilty, Price and they'll be hustled off to as soon as the court
this is over.

BUDINGTON
KELLAND

GENTLEMAN

THE STORY: Artemus Baldwin, Secret Service operator, has been contacted by a lawyer who has underworld connections. Baldwin is expected to work a confidence game on some winter tourists named Beau-gard. His real objective is to uncover a counterfeiting ring.

Chapter XV
Artemus flung himself into a chair and frowned at the waiter who had dared get in touch with Wessler to discuss the problem, but that would be insane.
The telephone interrupted his thoughts. "Hi, Mr. Baldwin," said a voice. "This is Porque — Porque
the man."
"Hello, Porque," Artemus answered. "What gives?"
"Look, you take a walk, see?
You'll have company. Give 'em the shake. When you dump 'em come down to Washington. I pick you up, see?"
"Where are you, Porque?"
"I got to think," Porque said,
and the receiver was hung up.
Porque was a naive, childlike dangler on the fringe of the underworld, but somehow Artemus felt he could trust the pathetic creature. It was dangerous to reach a conclusion like this. Porque, possibly without being aware of it himself, could be a plant.
In his business calculated risks were sometimes necessary. The Secret Service man decided to take this one.
He took every precaution to determining that he was not followed.
Artemus strolled half a dozen blocks and was commencing to believe that something had gone wrong, when a voice hissed at him from the dark entrance to a small grocery store. He stopped.
"It's me, Mr. Baldwin," Porque called from the blackness, careful to address Artemus by his family name with the prefix of "Mister."
Artemus, first looking behind him, sidled into the recessed doorway.
"What's bailing?" he asked.
"There's rumble, Mr. Baldwin.
I ain't on the inside, I ain't big enough. Maybe I'm kind of thick in the head, but I got ears. I got eyes."
"Such as?" Artemus asked
gruffly.
"There was Sweet Lips Clinkey," Porque said. "None of the boys in the old-time racket are hip to that one. They don't know who or why. There's other things.
There's you. You got a double tail."
"Double?" Artemus exclaimed.
"Yeah, there's Moose and Burps. We know about them guys. But there's somebody else we don't know. This other party spoke too. It's got 'em whittin'.
The talk is, somebody's plannin'
to take over."
"M6?" asked Artemus.
"The smart ones say you're in the middle."
"What have I done to lose voice?" Artemus asked.
"There's boys think they got a patent on the Yagut racket," Porque said. "They don't like your harmin' in."
"How do they know I'm har-min' in?" Artemus asked.
"It's been whispered. I'll be whispered more when Moose tells about them two Yaguts that come to see you tonight."
"You were there too?" Arle-mus asked.
"I got curious. Bein' a friend of yours."
"Those two Yaguts?" Artemus said. "Aren't they part of the old racket?"
"They're new ones," Porque said. "I'll be figured they're yours."
Artemus drove into the little garage adjoining his cabin at motel. He unlocked the door and stepped into the small living room. Seated on the either side of the door, guns in their fists,
were Burps and Moose, grinning
like evil feline cats.
"The top of the evening to ye, Mister Baldwin," Burps leered.
"And the rest of the day to yourselves," Artemus gave the time-honored Iibernian response.
"The other time we wasn't ready," Moose said.
"So you're here. So you're ready. So what?" snapped Arle-mus.
"We're a committee," Moose said. "We didn't have time to get no badges, but we're a committee. We're appointed to escort you out of town."
"And to see," Burps said with a feline purr, "that you don't come back."
"Grab the back of your neck with your two hands," ordered Moose. He grinned. "We're goin' in your car, Mr. Baldwin, with you drivin' the drivin'." Artemus turned the key and pressed the starter button. Nothing happened. The car was dead.
He pressed the button again, with the same result.
"Looks like we're not going for a ride boys," he said grimly.
The muzzle of Moose's gun pressed more firmly against the nape of his neck. "Don't be com-plizin', the man said. "Get to whizzin'."
"Try it yourself," Artemus said.
Burps, seated in front, reached over and flipped the key. He
day after the convention adjourns,
pressed the starter button with
"not a day later and in spite of
some helpful suggestions . . . not
start," he growled.
"It better start," Moose said
loudly.
Artemus was surprised as the pair of gorillas. His car had been in perfect condition when he went
into his cabin a little while ago.
But now it had failed inexplicably.
"Looks like we'll have to walk,"
he said.
"You won't walk," Moose said
savagely. "Get out and fix it. I'll be standin' over you."

Don't Fight, Is Butler's Last Advice

By STANLEY MEISLER
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Outgoing
National Chairman Paul Butler
involved in one party squabble after another for 5 1/2 years, has offered this parting advice to Democrats: Don't squabble.
In a speech he described as his valedictory, Butler told the opening session of the Democratic National Convention Monday night that the party must put aside inter-party strife to tackle a more important issue. He described that as the national problem of survival.
"For the first time in history," he said, "the ultimate issue before the nation is so much bigger, so far beyond any carping intraparty considerations, that they do not belong in the same decade.
to say nothing of the same convention."
Butler said he would retire the
day after the convention adjourns,
"not a day later and in spite of
some helpful suggestions . . . not
start," he growled.
"It better start," Moose said
loudly.
Artemus was surprised as the
pair of gorillas. His car had been
in perfect condition when he went
into his cabin a little while ago.
But now it had failed inexplicably.
"Looks like we'll have to walk,"
he said.
"You won't walk," Moose said
savagely. "Get out and fix it. I'll
be standin' over you."

opponents one by one licked off their determination to place their favorites' names in nomination. House Speaker Sam Rayburn said he will offer Johnson's name with confidence the Senate Democratic leader will win out in the end.

Gov. James T. Blair Jr. of Missouri said he is presenting his fellow Missourian, Sen. Stuart Symington, to the convention with the belief that Kennedy is 70 to 80 votes short of the 761 needed for the nomination.

Blair did not discount the possibility of a Kennedy cruncher on the second ballot. But he shook off as premature suggestions that Symington might agree to take second place on the ticket.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma made it emphatic that Stevenson's name will be put on the ballot for the countdown which would be reached after time-restricted nominating speeches and the usual hoopla of banner-waving supporters marching and chanting about the hall.

The convention got its first taste of the excitement delegates and spectators craved when Stevenson, twice the party noisemaker, paid an unannounced visit to the floor Tuesday night.

Surrounded by admirers and newsmen as he reached the outer gates of the convention area, the former Illinois governor literally had to fight his way to the floor behind a cordon of policemen.

His appearance awoke the previously lethargic galleries. They whooped and hollered as they have had few occasions to do in this well-oiled convention. But a lot of voting delegates noticeably sat on their hands.

Kennedy's backers had hoped to get Stevenson to place the Massachusetts senator's name in nomination. But Stevenson slogged them off with the observation that he couldn't desert those who had drafted for him.

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, Kennedy's floor manager, stuck to his line that Kennedy will win the nomination on the first or second ballot.

The Kennedy camp remained so outwardly confident of the result that it was considering giving Johnson the opportunity of refusing second place on the ticket. Some of the Massachusetts senator's

Coming And Going

Eddie Evans has returned home from a three weeks vacation with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Evans, a daughter, Miss Joy Myree Evans in Richmond, Calif., his brother London Evans in Oak and Calif., and another daughter, Mrs. Eddy Sanders in Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ware and grandchildren left Tuesday morning enroute to their home in Los Angeles, Calif., after having spent several days with her sister Mrs. Edward Simpson and Mr. Simpson.

They were accompanied by Miss Nancy Jo Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott.

as himself a candidate for the nomination, said Tuesday: "We proved in the West Virginia primary that Protestants will vote for a Catholic. Now we want some of the Catholic states to prove they'll vote for a Protestant."

But Johnson also said: "Our party is not going to vote a man or vote for a man because of his religion."

In a speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington last April 21, Kennedy referred to the issue.

"Nor am I appealing, as is too often claimed, to a so-called Catholic vote," he said. "Even if such a vote exists—which I doubt—I want to make one thing clear again: I want no votes solely on account of my religion. Any voter Catholic or otherwise, who feels another candidate would be a superior president should support that candidate. I do not want any vote cast for me for such illogical and irrelevant reasons."

Most of the opposition to Kennedy, on religious grounds, appeared to be coming from Southern states.

Former Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama issued a statement saying: "Let's face the facts. The paramount issue of segregation and integration is church and state."

Dr. L. A. Mosely, an Alabama delegate, said he had received a telegram which said, "If you vote for Kennedy, you can come back to Uniontown (his home) but only long enough to pack your bags."

The paratroopers cornered several Congolese soldiers on the roof and there was an exchange of gunfire in which one Congolese soldier was killed.

There were frequent bursts of gunfire.

Congolese soldiers scattered in all directions.

Paratroopers rounded up about 50 members of the Force Publique. They refused to give up their arms at first but when a Belgian officer began counting they quickly handed them over.

Standing in front of the airport, the AP correspondent could see Congolese soldiers heading in panic across the airfield to empty spaces beyond.

President Joseph Kasavubu and Prime Minister Patrice Lumumba of the Congo Republic sent a telegram to the United Nations charging that a Congo government request for aid by an international force is a "Belgian colonialist plot." The request was sent while they were out of town, they said.

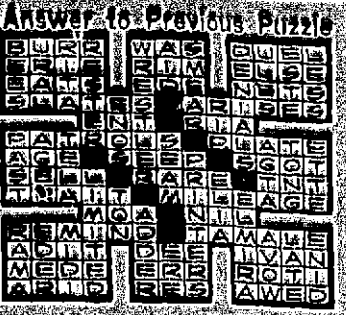

Lumumba told Belgian government representatives here to "get your Belgian troops back to their base within two hours." But a Belgian spokesman said Belgium does not intend withdrawing its paratroopers, who have restored order in Elisabethville and to some extent in Luluabourg. They also are trying to safeguard the valuable port installation at Matadi.

Boll Weevil Threat Fails to Develop

Boll weevil infestation levels did not reach the outbreak proportions expected in southwest Arkansas this past week, according to Extension Entomologist Grover Howell in his cotton insect report for the week ending July 11.

"This can probably be explained by a drop in the average daily temperatures," Howell said. "Boll weevil development is rapid at an 80 to 82 degrees Fahrenheit average temperature, and temperatures below this prolong the developmental period."

Rains that were expected to push emergence tended to lower temperatures. This proved to be a help rather than a hindrance to cotton farmers in Southwest Arkansas. Peak emergence, expected this week, should occur during the week of July 11 to 15, provided temperatures remain 80 or above.

There were 144 fields scouted in the southwest with 80 infested with boll weevil and 26 with bollworm. There were 64 fields that did not have weevils present. Again this week, aphids and spider mites were not found. The average percent punctured squares was 14.6.

Over wintering, boll weevils continue to emerge in pre-squaring cotton, and there is a general emergence of first generation weevils in the earlier planted cotton. As explained, the infestations are not building up to levels anticipated, and 2 or 3 well timed insecticidal applications are bringing the percent punctured square counts down to a low figure.

Bollworm activity is practically nil. There was a late emergence of second generation moths, but eggs are not present on the cotton. Larvae counts are very low and there is a distinct break in generations at this time.

Aphids and spider mites were not present in the scouted fields and low levels of plant bugs were found in only 20 fields.

Because of the wide-spread weevil resistance in this area, Howell again recommends that growers use the phosphate insecticides or calcium arsenate or sevin when control measures are applied.

10,000 Visit Arkla Village Old Timers' Day

CARE TO COUNT HEADS? STATE POLICE estimated the crowd for the Louisiana Hayride radio show at Arkla Village at nearly 10,000. A look at the above picture, taken from the bandstand looking north, tends to confirm this estimate.

MAIN SPEAKER AT THE ARKLA VILLAGE function was Gov. Orval E. Faubus. He joined the others in paying tribute to the state's and area's old timers. Subject of his brief talk was "What Arkansas Owes Its Old Timers."

ONE OF TWO COUPLES AT OLD TIMERS' DAY MARRIED sixty years were Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Stephens, of Blovin. Mr. Stephens is seated in an Early American-style rocking chair made at the Village, one of the numerous prizes awarded to senior citizens who were present.

AT OLD TIMERS' REGISTRATION BOOTH IS CHARLIE Urry, of Prescott. It later turned out that some six oldsters present at Old Timers' Day were over 90 (including the winner, who was 99), two couples have been married sixty years and five each had four generations represented at the day's festivity.

Candidates Would Cut Liquor Limit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three of five candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor have gone on record favoring a law to reduce the amount of liquor which can be legally possessed in dry counties and opposing extension of legalized gambling.

The Christian Civic Foundation of Arkansas said yesterday Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, H. E. Williams and Joe Hardin responded to a questionnaire it sent out. Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Hal Millsap Jr. did not reply, the Foundation said.

Williams responded "yes" to all five Foundation questions: Do you favor a law to prohibit sale of beer and other alcoholic beverages in grocery stores and drug stores? Do you favor a law to make it unlawful to possess more than a quart of liquor in a dry county? Do you favor making it unlawful for a minor to possess liquor? Do you favor strict enforcement of our present gambling laws and liquor laws? Would you oppose the extension of legal gambling? The present dry-county liquor limit is one gallon.

Bennett also responded yes to the question on law enforcement. So did Hardin, but he added, "Hot Springs might be an exception if the people in the county voted for it." Hardin replied favorably to the question on minors, but Bennett noted such a law now exists.

Bennett said the question on sale of alcohol in grocery and drug stores raises a constitutional question of equal privilege. Hardin said he thought the stores should keep such beverages in a separate department.

Williams, a Baptist minister, said he was "100 per cent" for moral betterment.

Faubus Stays Home, Works on Campaign

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Orval E. Faubus' decision not to attend the Democratic National Convention has been almost unanimously interpreted by his primary opponents as a sign he is worried about his bid for a fourth term.

Faubus, a delegate to the convention, announced yesterday that he would not attend as he had once planned to do.

Joe C. Hardin of Grady, Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett and H. E. Williams of Walnut Ridge all took the announcement as an indication that Faubus felt he couldn't afford to leave the state so near to the July 28 Democratic primary.

Hal Millsap Jr., the fifth candidate in the race, was not available for comment.

Hardin said, "There appears to be no question now — there will be a new governor." He added that Faubus' announcement "represents something of a comedown for a man who boasted before this campaign opened that if he didn't feel strong enough to take time out to go to the convention he wouldn't ask for renomination."

Williams felt that Faubus "dare not take the chance of leaving Arkansas for even a day." He declared that the "old confidence and arrogance" had been replaced by "frenzy and fear and the specter of certain defeat."

Bennett, who predicted Sunday Faubus would attend the convention, interpreted the decision to mean that Faubus had seen "the handwriting on the wall."

Williams also referred to a Faubus-for-President movement in California and a rally staged Sunday by Faubus boosters. He said, "Surely desperation is in the air and Faubus would like to deny his nefarious relationship with such radicals."

Faubus referred to his decision in several speeches in Northwest Arkansas yesterday, saying his schedule before the primary could not be completed if he attended the convention.

Speaking in Fayetteville, he also defended his shaking hands with Mrs. Daisy Bates, Arkansas head of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. Some candidates, notably Bennett, have been critical of this.

"I am the governor of all the people of Arkansas black as well as white," the governor said. He added that he had refused to shake hands with Mrs. Bates and the West Indian visitor she brought to his office if it would have made headlines around the world and damaged Arkansas' name.

Mrs. Mildred Dawson, 100, returned from an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Weller, and family in Houston, Texas. They expect to be away two weeks and will leave points of interest before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hamster of Camden spent Saturday in Prescott, visiting relatives. They attended the Old Timers' celebration at Arkla Village at Emmet while here.

Southwest Arkansas Co-operatives Meet

The principal speaker was Ted McQuire of St. Louis, who is Assistant Vice-President of Federal Intermediate Credit Bank and Public Relations Consultant.

A second panel which appeared on the afternoon program dealt with management and financing of various types of cooperatives. This panel was composed of E. A. Hansen, District Agricultural Extension Service Agent; Autrey Wilson, Route 4, Hope, state board member of CAMPA; Hershel Stinnett, manager of farm coop store in DeQueen; Clarence Hardin, REA board member from Arkadelphia; and Tamas Manasco, field representative of Arkansas Farmers Association.

Entertainment for the program was furnished by Venable Johnson, Sharon Evans, 4-H Club members at Shover Springs and Judy Reddin of Bossier City, La., who is visiting.

Sharon, Mrs. J. L. Brown, of Shover Springs, assisted the youngsters with their entertainment.
